ENABLING ACT IN STATE SENATE

Amendments Urged by The Committee Will be Considered First.

WILL VOTE TOMORROW

Question, it is Believed, Will be Quickly Settled Without Effort on Either Side to Delay It.

Special to the Gazette.)

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4 — The "drys" drew first blood in the Senate when the enabling act was taken up today. Proposed Amendment fixing election for June 25th was voted down and the House proposition for election on fourth Thursday in September was restored. Amendment providing for expression of people as between "local option' 'and state-wide prohibition was adopted without discussion.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—The Senate set May 1, 1917, as the date when Virginia shall go dry in case the voters vote against local option.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—The Mapp amendment providing that all voters who participated in the November election of 1913, and all who had paid poll taxes as of January 1, 1914, be allowed to vote, was passed 23 to 17.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—The Williams enabling act, providing for a State election as between prohibition and local option, was the special and continuing order today in the Senate. It passed the House practically as introduced, with the one change of requiring petitioners to be "qualified" instead of "registered" voters. The Senate committee on privileges and elections has reported the bill with amendments, and with the recommendation that it do not pass.

It is before the Senate on its second reading. Unless the usual order is suspended, the amendments will be considered today, and the bill ordered to its third reading and engrossment, and will come up on its final passage tomorrow. As a special and continuing order it has precedence over everything except the appropriation bill, which is also a special and continuing order.

Amendments recommended by the Senate committee propose that the election be held on the Fourth Thursdays in June of this year, instead of the fourth Tuesday in September, as proposed in the Williams bill. In order to qualify to vote in any election, poll taxes have to be paid six months prior thereto, and by bringing the election within the six months period, patrons of the amendment claim that the padding of the registration books with negroes and an undesirable element will be avoided.

Another Senate committee amendment to which the patron of the bill has agreed provides that the ballots instead of being marked "for state-wide prohibition,, and "against state-wide prohibition,, shall be marked for "state-wide prohibition," and for "local option," thus giving the voters the choice between the two methods of regulation. In the event of a majority for local option, existing laws on that subject are continued in full force and effect.

The House bill provided that if it should be certified to the Governor that a majority of the votes have been for state-wide prohibition, he shall proclaim that fact, and the sale of liquor in the state shall be phohibited on and after May 1, 1916. The Senate Committee amended this to read May 1, 1917, thus allowing another year to those engaged in the manufacture and sale of liquor in this State to close up their business May 1, it was explained, is the date from which the annual State licenses are issued. The Senate Committee also added to the bill a clause excepting wine and its by-products, manufactured from grapes, berries and fruits by any person, firm or corporation now manufacturing wine in this state, provided the wine or by-product so manufactured be sold only in packages of not less than two and one-half gallons, or one dozen bottles, and be delivered to a common carrier to be transported outside of the State.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Marlin Prater and his sons, Jonas and Harvey were taken yesterday from Looney's Curve, 15 miles south of Williamson, W .Va., to the hospital at Hurley, Va., all believed to be fatally wounded. It was said by the authorites that Harvey Prater went home Monday night accompanied by a woman to whom his father objected. In the quarrel that followed Harvey is alleged to have shot his father and brother, and in retaliation was shot by the brother as he lay wounded on the floor.

Dashing red pepper into her eyes and then forcing a paper bag over her head, two highwaymen yesterday robbed Elvira di Lemmo, the 16-year-old daughter of a wine merchant, of more than $600 in cash and checks as she was about to board a trolley car on the way to bank. The girl's foot was on the step of the car, which was crowded with passengers, when the men wrenched a handbag containing the money from her hand. Although temporarily blinded by the pepper, Miss di Lemmo, grappled with one of her assailants, but he struck her in the face and broke away. The crew of the car gave chase and Frank Pamlitto, 24 years old, was captured, but none of the money was found in his possession. He was held without bail for a further hearing.

Asiatic exclusion agitation was quieted, temporarily at least, in the House yesterday, after a heated debate that brought both Republican and Democratic leaders to the floor with pleas for calmness and deliberation. By overwhelming votes the House stripped the immigration bill under consideration of all amendments which would have placed a bar against Asiatic immigration. The action was taken after Republican Leader Mann, Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, and other leaders had made a vigorous fight to overcome the sentiment which Monday night expressed itself by a vote of 111 to 90 in favor of the perfection of an amendment to exclude Mongolians, Malays, and negroes. The speakers insisted that there should be no hasty action that might embarrass the State Department in its relations with the Japanese government.

Charles F. Murphy defies his enemies in the National Democratic Club, who adopted a resolution Monday night calling for his retirement from all participation in party affairs in New York. "I am the leader of Tammany Hall," he declared, "and I will remain the leader of Tammany Hall. That's all—the matter is closed."

John Erbel, a steel mill foreman and former resident of Syracuse, N. Y., was hanged yesterday at Williamsport, Pa., for the murder in 1912 of Grace Stidfole. Erbel's attorneys made a hard fight to save him. His execution was delayed two hours in a final effort to secure a reprieve from the governor. Just before he went to his death Erbel declared that liquor had made him irresponsible when he shot the girl. Erbel said he loved her, and had pleaded with her to quit the life she was leading and go with him to another city. She refused and the shooting followed.

REGULATING CIGARETTES.

Drastic Bill Introduced in General Assembly.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—Few more drastic bills have been introduced in the general assembly than one presented by Mr. Grant, of Russel county, yesterday, regarding the sale of cigarettes.

Should Mr. Grant's measure become a law, the young man under eighteen years of age will have to take to the cellar or the tall timbers to regale himself in a smoke. The bill prohibits the sale or the giving away of either a cigarette or cigarette paper to a minor under eighteen years of age by either merchants of tobacco or individuals.

It is further provided that any person allowing the smoking of cigarettes on their premises by these said minors shall be subject to a fine. Should an officer find a girl or boy smoking a cigarette or having material on their person it will be his duty to arrest him or her and carry them before a magistrate. The bill provides for a heavy fine for this offense, which will be remitted if the boy or girl will reveal the source from which

CONSIDERATION OF ROLLING STOCK ACT

Amendments Give 25 Per Cent to Cities and 75 Per Cent to Counties.

IS HELD TO BE LEGAL.

Attorney Acknowledges that Constitutional Failing is Removed by the New Measure.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—The Senate Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation voted yesterday afternoon to recommend for passage the rolling-stock bill introduced by Senators Holt and West, after incorporting an amendment providing for the distribution of the rolling-stock tax on the basis of 25 per cent to the home office cities and 75 per cent to the counties, towns and school districts. The committee added also other amendments of minor import.

In its amended form the bill divides the rolling stock tax in exactly the same proportion as the bill passed by the General Assembly of 1912, the sole difference being in the manner of collection. The act of 1912 assessed the whole rolling-stock corpus at the tax rate of the home office city, which up to that time had absorbed the whole tax itself, and proposed to apportion the tax thus collected among the various cities, towns and counties through which the roads passed, for local uses.

The act was declared unconstitutional by the State Corporation Commission on the ground that no class of property could be taxed for local purposes at a higher rate than that prevailing in the local tax district. An appeal was taken from this ruling and the case is still pending in the Supreme Court of Appeals.

According to lawyers who have carefully examined the new bill, the constitutional disability has been removed by providing a scheme of taxation under which each local taxing subdivision will impose on its proportionate share of the entire rolling stock of the road which passes through its borders its own local tax rate. The effect of the bill, if it is passed in the form in which it comes from the Senate committee, will be to give to Richmond, Roanoke, Petersburg and the other headquarters cities the same share of the rolling stock tax they would have received had the act of 1912 been permitted.

Under the terms of the Holt-West bill, the State Corporation Commission is directed to ascertain and apportion the value of the rolling stock of the various railroad corporations in Virginia among the several cities, towns and school districts through which any part of any one of the railroads passes, in the ratio and proportion that the total assessed value of the right of way, roadbed, tracks and other property of such railroad corporations located in any such county, city or town, bears to the assessed value of all such property owned by the railroads. Foreign railroad corporations doing business in Virginia, it is provided, shall be assessed for taxation on the average amount of rolling stock habitually used by them in this state.

The House Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation, at the conclusion of a hearing last week, adopted an amendment dividing the rolling-stock tax among the cities and counties on a 30 and 70 per cent. basis. It is believed that all factions will unite in furthering the passage of the bill, with either the House or senate amendment.

AGED BRIDEGROOM SAD.

Lakewood, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Lakewood has a new subject for conjecture in the romance of an 81-year-old bridegroom, who was married in November only to have his young bride leave him in January. George C. Hough, a prominent and wealthy citizen, surprised his friends in mid-November by announcing that he had just been married to Mrs. Shaw, a widow many years his junior, of Plainfield. Now he has advertised that he will no longer be responsible for Mrs. Hough's bills, she having "left his bed and board."

BIRTHDAY ASSOCIATION.

Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night—Invitation Committee Appointed.

City Councilman A. D. Brockett and Julian Y. Williams, were appointed a special committee by the George Washington Birthday Association, at its meeting held Tuesday night, to go to Richmond and extend an invitation to Governor Henry C. Stuart and staff to be present at the celebration to be held in this city on February 23rd. In case the governor accepts the committee will also extend an invitation to the Richmond Light Infantry Blues to act as an escort for the Governor and will arrange a special train to bring them from Richmond.

The meeting last night was an enthusiastic one and the reports of the various committees showed that the arrangements for the parade are well in hand.

A committee to confer with the merchants on King street relative to the illumination of that thoroughfare on February 21st, 22d and 23rd was appointed.

Julian Y. Williams was appointed chief of staff of the parade.

DEATH OF REV. R. A. GOODWIN.

Well-Known Minister Dies After Protracted Illness.

Richmond, Feb. 4.—After an illness extending over a period of weeks the Rev. Robert A. Goodwin, rector of Old St. John's Church, died in his home here at 1:15 this morning. Dr. Goodwin had been rector of St. John's Church since 1893, and by his work among the poor of his parish he had gained the affection of a large portion of the residents of that section.

Dr. Goodwin was taken ill several weeks ago, and from the first there was little hope for his recovery. Every means of prolonging life was resorted to in the hope that he would rally, but they were unavailing, and several days ago all hope was abandoned for his life.

Since the news of his illness was reported to the congregation, of which he was head, hundreds of men and women who had received help from the much beloved pastor, visited the home, and the news of his death was received with sorrow.

The scope of Dr. Goodwin's work in his parish has been comprehensive and no man within the precincts of his field of work was beyond the bounds of his charity. It has been said that he carried on the work of the Salvation Army among those who needed consolation and faith, in a more practical manner than the Salvation Army itself. His loss will be felt by many people whose help he was.

Robert A. Goodwin was born in Nelson county, Virginia, on August 13, 1850. He was the son of the Rev. F. D. Goodwin, of Wytheville, who was for many years an Episcopal minister of Virginia. He received his education at the University of Virginia and afterward at the Theological seminary at Alexandria.

Dr. Goodwin held charges in Mecklenburg county and in Petersburg. In 1893 he resigned his charge in Petersburg to take the ministry of St. John's Church, and has held that charge since.

Dr. Goodwin was one of the Examining Chaplains of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, and in this capacity visited the Seminary every spring.

One son of the late rector, Rev. Robert A. Goodwin, Jr., is now a missionary in China. He married the daughter of Rev. J. J. Gravatt, of the Holy Trinity Church in Richmond Another son, Rev. Conrad H. Goodwin, graduated at the Episcopal Theological Seminary near this city, last year. He also expects to enter upon missionary work in the foreign field.

SEARCH LEADS TO KILLING.

Noah Sink Shot By Roanoke Man Whose Married Daughter Was Annoyed.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 4.—Noah Sink, 27 years old, was shot and instantly killed yesterday afternoon by Norborne N. Akers, 57 years old, at the latter's farm house four and one-half miles from Roanoke. A shot gun was used and the entire contents entered the deceased man's body.

It is said that bad blood had existed tween the men for some time and at the time of the killing Sink was under a peace bond not to molest the Akers family.

The ill feeling is said to have been due to the alleged attentions of Sink to a married daughter of Akers, this daughter went west two weeks ago to live with her brother. Today Sink visited the Akers' home in search of the woman and a quarrel which ensued resulted in the shooting. Akers is under arrest.

DISPUTE LEADS TO CUTTING.

Serious Result of Argument on the Bible.

Jonesville, Va., Feb. 4. — George Goins is in jail here charged with cutting Marvin Wolliver. The two men live about five miles east of Jonesville. After having indulged in some drink, they engaged in a quarrel which resulted in Goins cutting Wolliver across the back part of the neck, the wound being about ten inches in length.

While on his way to jail Goins told the sheriff that he and Wolliver had disagreed on the scripture. Wolliver is still alive, and while seriously wounded, it is believed that he will recover.

BOY STABBED TO DEATH.

Youth Dies as Result of Wounds Inflicted by Schoolmate.

Tazewell, Va., Feb. 4.—Roy Cline, 16 years old, son of James Cline, of Cavitt's Creek, was killed Monday afternoon near his home by Charlie Harman, thirteen, son of Peel Harman, by being stabbed with a knife. A coroner's inquest charged young Harman with the death of Cline. Harman was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

The tragedy occurred as the boys were returning from Cavitt's Creek school. A fight arse between them, which resulted in the two boy's clinching. After they had been separated Cline stated that he had been stabbed, and walked a few steps and fell to the ground. The neighbors were summoned and after about an hour he was carried home, where he died shortly after arrival. The wound was made in his left thigh, through an artery, and despite the strenuous efforts of his family and others present, the flow of blood could not be stopped. Cline and Harman had been schoolmates and friends, and so far as known no enmity existed between them.

GIRL HURLED FROM TRAIN.

With Broken Shoulder She Reaches Shelter, Nearly Frozen.

Rochester, Minn., Feb. 4.—Standing on the step of a coach of a Great Western passenger train that was speeding from Stewartville toward Rochester, Miss Dorothy Keeler, a Stewartville school teacher, pounded frantically on the vestibule for admittance.

The roar of the wheels and the clanking of couplers drowned the sound of her knocks. For five miles she clung to the brass rails, gripping them until the cold benumbed and froze her hands and a jolt of the train hurled her down an embankment. Her shoulder blade was broken by the fall, but she retained consciousness, and realizing the peril of exposure to the cold, she arose painfully and stumbled along the track through snow and over slippery ties to Judge Station, a mile distant.

The train having passed, the station was closed. In the distance a light at a farm house guided her to shelter, and from there she was brought to Rochester, where she lies in a critical condition from exposure and injury.

LAW OPERATIVE NEXT SATURDAY

Kenyon Bill Will Become Effective by Close of Present Week.

RESCUE COMMITTEE.

Money Needed to Carry on Work—Temporary Quarters Procured for Women to be Made Homeless.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Washington's underworld will have its doors legally sealed Saturday at midnight unless President Wilson in the meantime signs the Kenyon red light bill.

The President has until Saturday to sign the bill, which was received at the White House Tuesday afternoon at the White House Tuesday afternoon of last week. The law giving the chief executive ten days in which to act on measures passed by Congress stipulates that the days shall be counted from the time the White House receives bill exclusive of the day on which it is received and of Sundays.

Realizing that only a few days remain in which to act for the salvation of those women of the district, who would accept employment and start life anew, the executive committee of the central committee appointed by the Commissioners, rented a house in the "division" today in which it is proposed to receive any of the women needing shelter when the resorts close.

The decision of the committee to adopt this method of meeting the situation brought about by the closing of the resorts came at the meeting of the body late yesterday afternoon. The members of the committee were of one mind that each applicant for and should be dealth with as an individual; that her qualifications for employment should be carefully considered, and that every chance should be given her to establish herself in normal ways of self-maintenance.

At the establishment which the committee has opened, women social workers, night and day, will advise, shelter, and give financial and medical assistance to all applicants. Every women in the "division" was personally notified that the house was open to her by social workers this morning.

Appeals for funds to carry on its general program were issued by the committee today. General inquiries as to the work of the committee should be addressed to the Rev. Wilbur V. Mallalieu, 812 20th street northwest. Subscriptions may be made to Cuno. Rudolph, treasurer of the general committee.

While the executive committee is empowered to carry out whatever plans its devises and will have supervision of the house rented to take care of the women, plans more complete in scope probably will be formulated by the general committee which will meet for the second time tomorrow afternoon in the board room of the District building.

ALDERMAN WIRES SUPPORT.

Says State Should Entrust Women's Education to University of Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—Opponents and advocates of the plan to establish at Charlottesville a coordinate college for women marshaled their strongest forces before the joint committee on public institutions and education in the Senate chamber last night, at a public hearing which lasted from 8:30 o'clock until 5 minutes of midnight.

The most uncompromising utterance of the evening came from President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia in the form of a telegram, from Saranac Lake, N. Y., indorsing in the most absolute terms the founding of a woman's college at Charlottesville, and expressing his conviction that such an institution should be put under the direction of the University.

For the opponents of the coordinate college the case was summed up by Eppa Hunton, Jr. The proximity of a woman's college, even though located in east Charlottesville, as the plan provides, would inevitably be said, work an irreparable injury to the traditions and prestige which the university have acquired in the niety years and more of its existence.

FINED TWENTY DOLLARS

Climax of Cutting Case on South Patrick Street Monday Night

Most of the time of the Police Court this morning was consumed in the further examination of the case of a young man who had seriously cut another in a fight in front of a house on South Patrick street last Monday night. The main features of the affray were published in yesterday's Gazette. Although additional witnesses had been summoned, but little new light was thrown on the trouble. The victim of the assault was represented by Robinson Moncure and L. N. Duffy appeared for the defendant.

The young man who wielded the knife was the recognized company of the sister of the man who had been cut seriously on the left side of the face, forehead and wrist, and the difficulty was the outcome of the latter's protest against his sister entertaining her company in the vestibule against the orders of her mother. The veracity of the mother it was alleged had been questioned by the woman's escort, which caused the brother to strike the man with whom his sister had been talking, and the cutting followed.

The defendant in his statement alleged that he had been attacked by other members of the family and he was compelled to use his knife in self-protection. He also said the young man who made the attack had a brick in his hand.

After the evidence had been given and the counsel had finished their observations, Justice Caton said that while the evidence in some particulars was conflicting, it seemed to have been an ordinary fight, and that if the man who had come out second best was guilty of any overt act he had been sufficiently punished. He therefore imposed a fine of twenty dollars upon the man who did the cutting.

STUART TO WIELD GREAT INFLUENCE.

General satisfaction has been expressed by members of the Legislature at the tone of Governor Stuart's inaugural address and the prediction is made that legislation under the policies of his administration would be essentially sane and constructive.

It seems to be the concensus of opinion among leaders in the General Assembly that the new executive's influence would be dominant, and that he will, in a sense, largely mold and direct legislation, particularly during the next forty days.

This is attributed to the fact that Governor Stuart is the choice of the whole Democratic party in Virginia rather than of a majority. He has no obligations except to the state as a whole; there are no political debts to be paid; no friends to be rewarded no enemies to be chastised or ignored

Perhaps the chief source of Governor Stuart's influence it is agreed is to be found in the man himself. I is freely admitted that he possesses the dominant personality at the capitol, and that, as a result, legislation will be largely what he makes it.

Leaders in the General Assembly are inclined to compare local conditions with those existing in the national capital. They say that the phenomenal success of President Wilson is due to the fact that he possesses the dominant intellect in Washington They assert no less emphatically that Governor Stuart possesses the dominant intellect in the State capital and that he will therefore be able to make his influence felt as few Governors have been able to do.

His training in life and his attitude toward public questions appeal particularly to the county delegations in the General Assembly, who admire his practical views and his frank manner of expression. The county delegates are in the large majority in the Legislature, and Governor Stuart's influence is further strengthened by the fact that over half of the House members are new and, therefore, have no interlocking entanglements whatever.

As Governor Stuart outlined in his address his views are entirely those of the conservative and yet progressive business men as opposed to those of the politician; and his efforts, therefore, as has been said, are to build up the whole state rather than the power of any particular organization.

Members of both branches of the slature are waiting for his first sage with considerable interest. y point to the fact that the mere ression of his opinion before his guration prevented the passage of ll granting practical tax immuni- o bank deposits. He is expect further elaborate his plan of t dization by local boards and

State supervisory board, and his recommendations, it is believed, will be embodied in a general reform bill to be considered either at this or at a special session of the Legislature.

HEIR TO WIFE'S FORTUNE.

Messenger Boy Inherits $200,000 From Wife of Five Months.

Durham, N. C., Feb. 4.—A tale alive with many of the elements of the dime novel is the story of the past six months of the life of Sylvanus Gray, of this city. About six months ago young Gray, who is about twenty-one years old, was employed as messenger boy by the Western Union Telegraph Company. One day he was dispatched with a telegram to be delivered to Miss Lula Johnson, of Lynchburg, Va., who was visiting in West Durham. Young Gray declares that the moment his eyes fell upon Miss Johnson he knew that it was a case of love at first sight. With the young lady it was apparently the same; for before the messenger boy had left the house they had arranged to get married, although they had never seen one another prior to that moment. A few days later the young lady came to the city from her home in an automobile, called Mr. Gray up over the telephone to meet her, which he did, and they were quietly married.

After riding around for several hours in the machine, Mrs. Gray bade her husband keep the affair a secret, telling him that her people must not find it out, and told him that she must go back home, but would send for him soon. From that day Mr. Gray heard no more from the young lady till he received a telegram some five months later, stating that she was dying, and bidding him come to Lynchburg immediately.

Since Mrs. Gray's death it has developed that she was an heiress to $200,000, the legacy of an uncle who has since died. Through the will of the dead Mrs. Gray all her property reverts to her husband, the former messenger. Mr. Gray's attorney thinks there will be no trouble in collecting the legacy for his client.

WILSON LIFTS EMBARGO.

Rifles and Ammunition Have Been Started to Mexican Border.

President Wilson yesterday issued an executive proclamation raising the embargo on arms and munitions of war intended for the Mexican revolutionists. Thousands of rifles and millions of rounds of ammunition which have been held in the United States because of the embargo last night were started for the Mexican border from New York, New Orleans and other points.

The immediate effect of the lifting of arms is expected to be seen in movements of Charge d'Affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy. It is expected that Gen. Huerta will give the American charge his passports. Such an act probably would be followed by the announced recognition of the constitutionalist cause by President Wilson.

The act of President Wilson meets with the approval of a big majority of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, which for months has been urging such a course.

SUFFRAGISTS' HOPES KILLED.

Resolution Adopted Declaring Party Regards Question as State Issue.

The House Democrats last night adopted in caucus a resolution setting forth that the Democratic party regards the suffrage question as a State issue and not a national issue.

The defeat of the suffragists was accomplished mainly by Representative Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama, who offered the resolution as a substitute for the one introduced by Representative John E. Raker, of California, which suggested that the House appoint a standing committee on woman suffrage. The Heflin resolution was passed, 123 to 67.

Almost without exception the members from the South voted for Mr. Heflin's resolution. Among the leaders who voted with the majority were Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood, Representative Adamson, of Alabama, Representative Hull, of Tennessee, and Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania.

The caucus was called ostensibly to ratify or reverse the action of the majority of the House Committee on Rules, which decided recently against a resolution providing for a standing committee on woman suffrage. The call was issued by pro-suffragists in the House who hoped that the majority would heed the request of the National Woman Suffrage Association through fear of defeat in the suffrage States this fall.

After a long debate on Mr. Baker's resolution Mr. Heflin offered his substitute and met with much opposition, the voting started it the suffragists ier setback.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Alexandria Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of an Alexandria citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

An Alexandria citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. Martha L. Byrne, 209 Wilkes street, Alexandria, Va., says: "I never fail to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills after all they have done for me, and you may continue using the endorsement I gave some years ago. I take this remedy every once in a while and it keeps me in good health. I was suffering severely from backache. My kidneys were badly disordered and I felt all run down. I was helped so much by the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills that I kept on taking them until I was well."

BLUES' BAND FACING JAIL.

Imprisonment For Mutiny, if Charge Be Proven in Court-Martial.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—That serious charges will be preferred against members of the Blues' Battalion band for their refusal to obey the orders of their commanding officer, Maj. E. W. Bowles, to report at the armory Monday night for duty, is certain. Major Bowles will prefer charges against the men with Adjutant Sale.

They will be tried before a military court in the Blues' armory February 24.

Just what the nature of the charges will be Major Bowles declines to give out. It is known however, that the men will be tried on one of the several charges, insubordination, disrespect to their commanding officer, deliberate and premeditated disobedience of orders and mutinty.

Of the charges that of mutiny is the most serious and it is not improbable that the men will be accused of this. Conviction for mutiny carries with it dishonorable discharge and heavy imprisonment. They can also be imprisoned under the other charges.

The men were arrested Monday night and carried to the second police station, where they furnished bail for their appearance before the military court.

The strike of the musicians caused the officers of the Blues much embarrassment. With hundreds of couples on the floor of the armory, the occasion being the military ball given by the Blues in honor of the Virginia Military Institute Cadets, the band failed to put in appearance on schedule time. Many questions were asked but no one thought the band had actually "struck" until one of the pianos from one of the company rooms was hauled out on the floor. Then the fact became known and Major Bowles immediately appointed a squad to search for the musicians.

As the men were located, many being dragged from their beds, they were escorted to the armory and held under guard for the arrival of the police patrol, in which they were carried to the second police station. In the meantime several musicians had been secured from a number furnishing music for the reception in the governor's mansion and the dance went on uninterrupted.

ROAST CHILD TO DEATH.

Negroes Said to Have Admitted Burning Dead Relative's Child.

Jonesville, Va., Feb. 4.—Charged with burning the 4-year-old child of a dead relative, Will Calloway and his wife are under arrest in the local jail. According to the sheriff's officers, the negroes confessed to the crime upon being taken to the scene.

Calloway, the officers state, in his confession, is alleged to have admitted stripping the child of its clothing and burning it, while alive, on a camp fire. The reason given for the act, according to the alleged confession, was that Calloway and his wife tired of the child. The burning is said to have occurred late Sunday.

Bishop Gibson Improving.

Richmand, Va., Feb. 4. — Bishop Robert A. Gibson was able to sit up yesterday afternoon and he may be well enough to walk about in his home within the next few days. His condition is greatly improved and it is thought that with necessary precautions, he will steadily regain his strength.

Bishop Gibson was seriously ill several days ago as the result of an attack of heart trouble caused by acute indigestion. His condition was so alarming that members of his family were summoned to his bedside.

The rest, which the bishop badly needed, is thought to have done much toward aiding his recovery, as his active work in the Episcopal diocese had been a great tax on his strength. With proper care at his age his attending physician thinks he may regain his health and be able to resume his duties as bishop.

CHAMPIONS BUZZARD.

Chaloner Takes up Cudgels for Unattractive Birds.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—John Armstrong Chaloner, in his address at the Rex Theater Sunday night, came to the front as the champion of the buzzard. Recently, he heard that Virginia would endeavor to exterminate the buzzard on the ground that this valuable, though unattractive bird, was the direct cause of spreading hog cholera.

Mr. Chaloner knows said buzzard is always on the job, and for that reason he wants to see the whole tribe protected because of its help to society.

When he heard that the buzzard warfare was likely to start, Mr. Chaloner wrote to H. W. Henshaw, chief of the Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, at Washington, who answered that "in our opinion, there is no question that these birds render good service to man particularly in the agricultural sections, where the means of disposition of garbage are not great." Mr. Henshaw added: "That part played, then, by buzzards in the mechanical distribution of such diseases as hog cholera is so small that it is probable that it would have no apparent effect on the prevention of this disease if every buzzard in the Southern States were destroyed."

To meet the enemy before the enemy got a running start, Mr. Chaloner caused to be printed a petition for the protection of buzzards, copies being sent to all parts of the State to be signed by the people, especially the farmers.

ELEVEN JUDGES ELECTED.

Virginia Assembly Names J. L. Kelly to State Supreme Bench.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—The General Assembly, in joint session yesterday, elected the Circuit judges and one judge of the Suprme Court of Appeals, nominated at the caucus on January 18. They will assume their duties on February 1, 1915.

The following were chosen:

T. N. Haas, of the Twenty-ninth circuit.

E. S. Turner, of the Twenty-sixth circuit.

William E. Burns, of the Twenty-seventh circuit.

B. W. White, of the Twenty-eighth circuit.

Bennett T. Gordon, of the Twenty-ninth circuit.

Beverly T. Crump, of the Law and Equity Court, Richmond.

William Bruce Martin, of the Law and Chancery Court, Norfolk.

Frank P. Christian, of the Corporation Court, Lynchburg.

J. M. Mullen, of the Corporation Court, Petersburg.

John T .Goolrich, of the Corporation Court, Fredericksburg.

Joseph L. Kelly, of Bristol, to succeed Judge James A. Buchanan, of the Supreme Court of Appeals.

To provide for the election of the judges of the Virginia Suprme Court of Appeals by the voters of the State is the purpose of a bill introduced in the House today by Delegate R. L. Gordon, of Louisa. It would take the selection of the Supreme Court of Apeals judges from the General Assembly, as now provided. It provides that the judges shall hold office for 12 years, but shall retire at the age of 70.

Delegate J. M. Steck, of Winchester, introduced a drastic child labor bill. It provides that after July, 1, no child under 14 years shall be permitted to work in any factory, laundry or mercantile establishment, or during school hours, of after 7 o'clock in the evening. No child under 16 years shall work more than six days a week, nor before 7 in the morning or after 10 o'clock at night. In cities of 5,000 or more no child under 14 years shall be employed as a messenger, and no child under 18 shall work between the hours of 10 o'clock at night and 5 o'clock in the morning.

TO RETIRE JUDGES.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 4.—At a meeting of the house committee on appropriations for the retirement of judges of the Supreme Court on four-fifths pay, was reported favorably with an amendment providing for three-fifths pay, instead of the four-fifths.

The retirement is optional with the judge, after he has attained the age of seventy years, and has served twelve years on the bench of the Supreme Court. As the salary of a Supreme Court justice is $5,000, this bill, if passed by the general assembly, will allow hif to retire on a salary of $3,000 annually.
